

Management Consultant

Strategic Asset Management

Morrison Low has a reputation for applying outstanding problem-solving techniques in complex environments. A significant part of our business is assisting the public sector to develop and implement long term strategies and policies for delivering services and infrastructure to their communities. We are fast becoming Government's strategic asset management advisors of choice.

We are currently seeking an intermediate/senior level management consultant who is degree qualified, civil engineering or equivalent, to work on infrastructure strategy and planning, strategic asset management and other projects with our team of senior consulting staff. Your experience should include asset management strategy and policy, asset management plans, infrastructure reviews and asset management improvement programmes.

You must be a natural team player with strong conceptual and analytical thinking while having a customer focus. Excellent report writing and time management skills are a prerequisite.

You will work for a leading management consulting firm specialising in the local, state and central government sectors in New Zealand and Australia and focus on developing innovative solutions for clients covering a range of business areas.

The successful applicant will be based in Wellington and have a high degree of flexibility to work and travel within New Zealand and Australia.

Remuneration will be negotiated based on the successful candidate's experience, background and fit within our current business.

In return we offer a competitive salary, professional development and the opportunity to work within a supportive, friendly team of professionals in modern, open plan offices.

To register your interest, please apply now and send your application in confidence to The Practice Manager – s.parkinson@morrisonlow.com. Please detail your skills and experience and explain why you are the best candidate for the position.

No agencies please.
